EMS Administration and Medical Disaster Management Certificate

UNC School of Medicine
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Best practices and innovative approaches to EMS leadership, administration, and medical disaster management

The first responder for any medical disaster is typically EMS. This program focuses on providing EMS professionals with leadership and administrative strategies required to make sound decisions on a medical disaster and everyday in their organizations. For Crisis Leadership to be successful, it has to be a result of what we practice daily. Participants will learn creative and innovative approaches to prepare for and solve crisis management challenges. Individuals will gain a broader perspective on the National Response Framework Emergency Support Function 8 to help communities address the health and medical impacts of all phases of disasters.

Session 1 (On Campus)
May 7-9, 2014
Leadership and Mgt.

Session 2 (Independent)
June, 2014
Public Speaking, Peer Reviewed Research

Session 3 (On Campus)
July 16-18, 2014
Operations and Finance

Session 4 (Small Group)
August 2014
Continuity of Ops & CMS Healthcare Reform

Session 5 (On Campus)
September 10-12, 2014
Planning and Preparedness

Session 6 (Small Group)
October 2014
Planning a Regional Exercise

Session 7 (On Campus)
November 12-14, 2014
Disasters and Logistics

Educational Credits:

100 Contact Hours by UNC-CH
43 CEU Units by NCOEMS
10 Professional Development Hours By NCOEMS
Other CE available

Presented through a series of interactive on and off campus lectures, online e-learning, group discussion, table top exercises, independent research and analysis.

Tuition

In-State Entire Program.....$1125
Out of State Entire Program.....$1425

Tuition payments are due before the first session unless previous payment arrangements have been made. If you need a payment arrangement please contact Jim Gusler at 919-966-3659 or james_gusler@med.unc.edu

To apply online or view more detailed information visit:
www.EMSadmMDM.org Or Contact
Jim Gusler at james_gusler@med.unc.edu or 919-966-3659

UNC SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

www.EMSAdmMDM.org