About the Health on Wheels Program

What?

Health on Wheels is a broad-based mobile medical unit program started in spring 2010 at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Why?

The program's mission is to bring basic health initiatives and opportunities directly to the community, including:

- health screenings
- medical appointments
- health studies
- sharing of health information

Who?

The unit is made available to UNC researchers, UNC clinicians and other UNC collaborators. Once a request has been approved, clients are able to rent the van.

Where and When?

The program makes it possible to bring a small exam room to venues throughout the state. It has been used previously to reach patients who did not otherwise have access to follow-up care and to provide a home for school physicals. The Health on Wheels unit is available weekdays.
