ACCREDITATION

The School of Medicine of The University of North Carolina is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Continuing education credits have been approved by the NC Board of Optometry for the Physician's Session.

The UNC Department of Ophthalmology is accredited by the Joint Commission on Allied Health Personnel in Ophthalmology (JCAHPO) to provide continuing education credit to Allied Health personnel who attend the Technician Session.

DISCLOSURES

The UNC School of Medicine and UNC Ophthalmology adhere to the ACCME Standards regarding industry support for continuing medical education. Disclosure of the planning committee and faculty's commercial relationships, if any, can be found in the following pages of this program. Speakers will also state when off-label or experimental use of drugs or devices is incorporated in their presentation. UNC Ophthalmology has not received any grant support for this meeting.

The Tech Session is not sponsored by JCAHPO; only reviewed for compliance with JCAHPO standards and criteria and awarded continuing education credit accordingly; therefore, JCAHPO cannot predict the effectiveness of the program or assure its quality in substance and presentation.
Disclosure Summary

UNC CPD requires that all CME activities held under its accreditation be scientifically rigorous, balanced, objective, and independent of any commercial interest. UNC CPD has the utmost faith in the integrity of the individuals who present our educational activities. However, to avoid the appearance of any conflict of interest, and to comply with the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support, UNC CPD requires all planners and presenters to disclose any financial relationships with commercial interests that provide healthcare drugs or devices. This information is provided below for your consideration.
