

FSP seeks medical education expert to send to Montevideo

Greetings!

I am writing regarding a fully-funded, short-term opportunity for a medical education expert to travel to Uruguay that is currently available through the Fulbright Specialist Program.

The Fulbright Specialist Program (FSP) seeks a highly qualified individual to develop medical education curriculum who has experience teaching and publishing in the field of medical education who is familiar with Latin America and speaks Spanish. This project, “Enhancing Postgraduate Medical Education” would involve one approximately three-week visit to Montevideo. The project timeline, which ideally would take place within the next year, would be decided upon by the selected finalist and the host institution – Escuela de Graduados Facultad de Medicina.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens and the deadline to submit a brief statement of interest and CV/resume to fulbrightspecialist@worldlearning.org is Wednesday, August 11 – further details and application instructions are included in the attached announcement. If an individual is selected as a candidate for the project, at that stage he or she would submit an official application to join the Fulbright Specialist Roster in order to finalize the match to this project.

The Fulbright Specialist Program is part of the Fulbright Program, the U.S. Department of State’s flagship international educational exchange program, and pairs highly qualified U.S. academics and professionals with host institutions abroad to share their expertise, strengthen institutional linkages, hone their skills, gain international experience, and learn about other cultures while building capacity at their overseas host institutions. Grant benefits include international round-trip economy class airfare, transit allowance, all applicable visa fees, a daily honorarium ($200), enrollment in a limited health benefits program, lodging, meals, and in-country transportation.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this unique and exciting opportunity! Please do not hesitate to contact me so I can provide additional information about the Fulbright Specialist Program or this project.

Kind regards,
