CMEP PROVIDERS DELIVER TOP NOTCH TRAINING

One of the services we provide to the State Division of Social Services is the training of their new social workers, in local agencies, in the Medical Aspects of Child Abuse. We have done this for many years but recently updated our curriculum to make it more case based. The trainers have done a wonderful job of incorporating the information into their teaching styles. The social workers evaluate each training on a Personal Satisfaction Form. Our goal is to score 85% in the “Strongly Agree” and “Agree” categories. We are averaging 90%+ in all categories. The most interesting questions they answer are “Prior to this training I was not looking forward to attending” and the next question “After taking this training I am glad I went”. The span in these two numbers is huge, jumping from 70% excited prior to training and 95% glad I came. This is an indication that our training curriculum is reaching them and enabling them to do their job better. Thanks to those who help prepare the new social workers to better do their jobs.
