

Clinicopathologic Correlation

We are always available and welcome the opportunity to discuss cases with you.

In addition, UNC has excellent clinical faculty with expertise in difficult melanocytic lesions, challenging eruptions, and blistering diseases that can be utilized in complex cases as well.

Challenging cases can also be presented and discussed in the Department of Dermatology at our weekly Grand Rounds conferences and monthly UNC-Duke conferences.