WELCOME
New Faculty!
Orientation Guide

These materials are intended to orient new faculty to the University of North Carolina School of Medicine and provide resources for additional information.

Topics covered in this slide deck include:

» Medical Education at Carolina
MD Curriculum

Translational Education at Carolina (TEC)

TEC 1: Translation of medical sciences to the care of people
- Translation of medical sciences to the care of populations
- Students learn teamwork, leadership, and decision-making skills to optimize public health

TEC 2: Translation of medical science to the care of patients
- Students learn hands-on diagnostic, clinical, and communication skills to provide effective and personalized care for the patients they serve

TEC 3: Translation of medical sciences to the care of populations
- Students learn leadership, translation, and public health skills to optimize public health

Foundation Phase
- Formerly 1st and 2nd years

Application Phase
- Formerly 3rd year

Individualization Phase
- Formerly 4th year

North Carolina
Educating Across the State

Vision: to help lead the transformation of health care education and services in North Carolina
Mission: to promote and support excellence in teaching, and to fund curricular innovation and a scholarly approach to the education mission

“The AOE is a multidisciplinary group of educators dedicated to advancing educational research and improving the learner experience.”

med.unc.edu/aoe