Thank you for your interest in the Radiologic Science (BSRS) program at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The BSRS program will prepare you for entry into the medical imaging profession. Our graduates continue in rewarding careers in a wide variety of positions and healthcare settings. We look forward to receiving your application and talking with you about the exciting field of radiologic science.

Admission Requirements

Students typically enter the Radiologic Science program after completing general education requirements and prerequisite courses. Successful completion of the prerequisite courses listed under the major does not guarantee admission to the program.

BSRS students are selected on the basis of science and math prerequisite course GPA, overall GPA, quality of written application, oral and written interviews, and recommendations. Students with an overall grade point average less than 2.5 cannot be considered for admission to the UNC BSRS program. Students who already have a baccalaureate degree and have the BSRS prerequisite courses may apply for admission to the program and request a second baccalaureate degree from UNC.

Deadlines

The deadline for submitting your Common Application, Supplement, and fee to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions is set by that office each year (visit the Office of Undergraduate Admissions website for more information). If you want to be considered for admission after this deadline, please contact the Division of Radiologic Science at (919) 966-5147.

Application Instructions

To apply for admission, follow these steps:

- Go to the Common Application website to create an account and start your application.
- Submit the Common Application, Common Application supplement, and application fee by the published deadline.
- Upload the essays requested in your Common Application supplement.
- Submit official transcripts from all secondary and post-secondary schools to:
  University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
  Office of Undergraduate Admissions
  Jackson Hall, Campus Box 2200
  Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2200

- Arrange to have two letters of recommendations written on your behalf sent to uncsubmit@admissions.unc.edu. Recommendations should be completed by college professors or teaching assistants who are familiar with your academic abilities, work supervisors, or volunteer project supervisors.
