

DIGITAL PAINTING VIA PROCREATE ©

PHOTOGRAPH COURTESY OF ARTIST

In healthcare, we often find ourselves navigating the delicate web of human experience, as our hands reach into the unseen. Each patient interaction is a careful dance of touch and perception, during which sensitivity and precision intertwine. As healers amidst a fractured and inequitable health care system, we seek to untangle the complex strands of illness and wellness, maintaining awareness of the profound impact of our interventions.

a b o u t • a r t i s t

SANTIAGO

Sarah Santiago is a first-year dental student at the UNC Adams School of Dentistry. She earned a Bachelor of Independent Studies in Biomedical Science and Enterprise from Georgia State University. She plans to use her artistic background to provide future patients with functional aesthetic dentistry.

Follow her work on Instagram: @santiago_arts.

© 2024 Iris: The art and literary journal, UNC School of Medicine