

Oil pastel on canvas

This piece was completed in the impressionist tradition of en plein air. As part of a larger collection, Water reveals the immortality of textural and chromatic change in the natural world.